

Public Bulletin Board Use Policy

The use of the public bulletin board for political rallies, partisan events, or purely sectarian event postings is not permitted. This does not include public meetings with elected government officials or community events held in church facilities.

Posting of information does not imply approval by the library of the group, the event, or the ideas presented at the event. Publicity for a meeting at the library by a non-library group must not be worded in a manner which would imply library sponsorship of the group's activities.
